Stories From the Heart

Less than a year after the 2004 “From INCIID the Heart IVF Scholarship” program launch, the first two babies were born within days of each other; a beautiful baby boy to Carl and Shewanda and a precious baby boy to Melody and Jim. Five years later, Melody and Jim had boy/girl twins from frozen embryos produced during their donated Heart Cycle.

Neither couple had resources or insurance to pay for IVF. The INCIID Heart program was integral to helping them build their families. Today both families keep in touch and remain part of the INCIID family.
their personal journeys were featured in People Magazine.(Dec.2005)

INCIID Program Keeps Hope Alive: Parents never expect to bury their child. Julia and Dustin were high school sweethears. After graduation they married and began their journey toward parenthood. They never thought having a family would be an issue. After struggling for a year of Julia finally became pregnant. The first 17 weeks went well but during a routine ultra sound in Julia’s second trimester the doctor diagnosed the couple’s baby with a severe congenital diaphragmatic hernia with only a 30% chance of survival.

Julia describes her first delivery as the best and worst day of her life. Parker took his last breath in his daddy’s arms at 2:15 pm the same day he came into the world.

After matching this couple with a donating clinic Julia and Dustin delivered a healthy set of twins (Colton and Cooper). INCIID is grateful to have been a part of their journey along with the generous support of donating clinics and EMD Serono

Multiple Miscarriages: Ryan and Karmann came to the INCIID HeartProgram after years of struggling through 8 miscarriages, a failed adoption, and a cerclage at 14 weeks. Finally, little Kai was born. Karmann told INCIID,

“ I love being a mom! It is everything and more. We would NEVER have been parents and allowed to share this joy if we hadn’t been given the IVF scholarship from INCIID. Our insurance would not cover it and we would NEVER have been able to afford it.”

Get Involved, Donate

Physicians, clinics and their staff tell us that being a part of the INCIID Heart IVF program through the generosity heartfelt donations of services, lifts their spirits. Knowing the cycle donation is going to something so tangible as a gift of life, fills the staff with joy, a sense of peace and both personal and a “job well-done” kind of satisfaction. Donating services is good for the heart.

INCIID the Heart IVF Scholarship Program

Generally, most insurance companies do not provide coverage for in vitro fertilization (IVF). The cost of alternatives such as adoption, leave many with little hope for realizing their dreams of pregnancy and creation of their families.

In April of 2004, INCIID stepped by launching the first and only national IVF scholarship program for individuals and couples who have medical need for IVF but who are without financial resources and health insurance making the IVF procedure out of their reach.
